GOVERNANCE

EXTERNAL REGULATION

Qatar Charity, like all Qatar-based NGOs, operates under the supervision of the Regulatory Authority for Charitable Activities in the State of Qatar.

RACA is the regulator of charities in the State of Qatar and provides the legal framework that regulates the establishment and management of charitable work in the country, in alignment with leading international charity regulators' guidelines adopted by the Board of Directors that provide guidance in all pertinent matters and define a clear, ethical, and lawful course of action for any situation affecting directly or indirectly the work of the organization.

The Board of Directors oversee the independent and specialized committees in risk management, compliance and audit with clear roles and responsibilities taking into consideration RACA's legislations and Qatar Charity's internal regulations. The Board undergoes an annual self-evaluation process as stipulated by the Qatar Charity's Board of Directors' Self Evaluation Policy and Self-Compensation Policy and Conflict of Interest Policy.

Risk management

Risk management is an essential part of Qatar Charity's governance system. It is guided by external regulations stipulated by RACA and by internal self-regulating policies and procedures developed by the Board. Qatar Charity adopts a risk-based approach in all aspects of its work by utilizing advanced tools to manage any risks that may incur

Qatar Charity worked with Refinitiv to develop a joint risk management system that is specifically adapted to the high-risk work of NGOs and that allows the organization to identify, anticipate and mitigate any risks that may arise before, during and after the delivery of aid.

Compliance

Because we recognize the risk that NGOs' funds can be misused, we have added extra layers of protection by using advanced global systems to mitigate the risks of money laundering and terrorist financing in cooperation with major international institutions.

In 2019, Qatar Charity became the first organization in the MENA region to sign a unique cooperation agreement with Refinitiv Thomson Reuters, a world leader in AML/TF screening, to better identify risks related to money laundering and terrorist financing.

The cooperation comes in the form of a consolidated database of individuals and institutions between Qatar Charity and Thomson Reuters' World Check that will enable us to quickly and effectively identify and isolate individuals and institutions that can pose a potential risk of money laundering or terrorist financing.
